Heart of a Lion - William Stolzenburg 2016-04-12

Late one June night in 2011, a large animal collided with an SUV cruising down a Connecticut parkway. The creature appeared as something out of New England's forgotten past. Beside the road lay a 140-pound mountain lion. Speculations ran wild, the wildest of which figured him a ghostly survivor from a bygone century when lions last roamed the eastern United States. But a more fantastic scenario of facts soon unfolded. The lion was three years old, with a DNA trail embarking from the Black Hills of South Dakota on a cross-country odyssey eventually passing within thirty miles of New York City. It was the farthest landbound trek ever recorded for a wild animal in America, by a barely weaned teenager venturing solo through hostile terrain. William Stolzenburg retraces his two-year journey--from his embattled birthplace in the Black Hills, across the Great Plains and the Mississippi River, through Midwest metropolises and remote northern forests, to his tragic finale upon Connecticut's Gold Coast. Along the way, the lion traverses lands with people gunning for his kind, as well as those championing his cause. Heart of a Lion is a story of one heroic creature pitting instinct against towering odds, coming home to a society deeply divided over his return. It is a testament to the resilience of nature, and a test of humanity's willingness to live again beside the ultimate symbol of wildness.

My Lion's Heart - Gareth Patterson 2014-09-15

Environmentalist, independent researcher and author, Gareth Patterson has spent his entire adult life working tirelessly for the greater protection of African wildlife and, more particularly, for that of the lion. Born in England in 1963, Gareth grew up in Nigeria and Malawi. From an early age he knew where his life's path would take him - it would be in Africa, and his life's work would be for the cause of the African wilderness and its wild inhabitants. His is an all-encompassing African story. From his childhood in West and East Africa to his study of a threatened lion population in a private reserve in Botswana to his work with George Adamson, celebrated as the 'Lion Man' of Africa, we witness Gareth's growing commitment to his life's mission. This is nowhere more evident than in his account of his life as a human member of a lion pride, experiencing life and death through its eyes, as he successfully rehabilitated three famous orphaned lion cubs back into a life in the wilds. At considerable risk to his own personal safety, he exposed the sordid canned lion 'industry' in South Africa, bringing this shameful practice to international attention. After moving to the Western Cape he took up the fight for the African elephant, notably the unique endangered Knysna population, and published his astonishing findings in his 2009 book The Secret Elephants. Perhaps unsurprisingly, given the stressful nature of his work, Gareth suffered a massive physical and mental breakdown in his forties, which he discusses here for the first time with an openness that underlines his courage. Lesser men might have been broken, but his 'lion's heart' fought back and he ultimately overcame his illness. Gareth Patterson's long-awaited autobiography is a moving account of one man's single-minded dedication to the preservation of Africa's wildlife. It is also a stark reminder that if the human race does not want to lose Africa's priceless wild heritage, there is no time to waste. 'The lion is my totem animal, and this is the story of my life in Africa, for the lion.'

The Soul of a Lion - Alice Von Hildebrand 2000

Dietrich von Hildebrand, widely regarded as one of the great Catholic philosophers of the 20th century, is well-known for his numerous books, but, until this present work, not much has been known of his remarkable and inspiring life. Written by his wife, Alice, also a highly respected Catholic thinker, this is a fascinating, moving and, at times, gripping account of a truly great man of the Church who suffered much for the faith. Based on a very long "letter" Dietrich wrote to his wife late in his life, it tells his story from his glorious youth with a unique intellectual and cultural formation, his conversion to Catholicism, his great passion for truth and beauty, his extensive writing on Christian philosophy and theology, and his steadfast, determined opposition to Nazism that made him a marked man who miraculously escaped execution. A powerful biography of a relentless fighter against injustice, a devoted son of the Church, a man who had the "soul of a lion". Illustrated.

The Lion's World - Rowan Williams 2012

Former Archbishop of Canterbury Rowan Williams offers fascinating insight into The Chronicles of Narnia, the popular series of novels by one of the most influential Christian authors of the modern era, C. S. Lewis. Lewis once referred to certain kinds of book as a "mouthwash for the imagination." This is what he attempted to provide in the Narnia stories, argues Williams: an unfamiliar world in which we could rinse out what is stale in our thinking about Christianity--"which is almost everything," says Williams--and rediscover what it might mean to meet the holy. Indeed, Lewis's great achievement in the Narnia books is just that--he enables readers to encounter the Christian story "as if for the first time." How does Lewis makes fresh and strange the familiar themes of Christian doctrine? Williams points out that, for one, Narnia itself is a strange place: a parallel universe, if you like. There is no "church" in Narnia, no religion even. The interaction between Aslan as a "divine" figure and the inhabitants of this world is something that is worked out in the routines of life itself. Moreover, we are made to see humanity in a fresh perspective, the pride or arrogance of the human spirit is chastened by the revelation that, in Narnia, you may be on precisely the same spiritual level as a badger or a mouse. It is through these imaginative dislocations that Lewis is able to communicate--to a world that thinks it knows what faith is--the character, the feel, of a real experience of surrender in the face of absolute incarnate love. This lucid, learned, humane, and beautifully written book opens a new window onto Lewis's beloved stories, revealing the moral wisdom and passionate faith beneath their perennial appeal.

Füchse - Adele Brand 2020-03-16

Seit Urzeiten begleitet der Fuchs den Menschen, und schon immer war er für seine Intelligenz und Schlaueit berühmt. Heute ist er das am weitesten verbreitete Raubtier und sein leuchtendes Fell selbst in den Städten ein häufiger Anblick. Doch wer ist dieser wilde Nachbar des Menschen in Wirklichkeit? Adele Brand erschließt uns in ihrem klugen und warmherzigen Buch den mysteriösen Kosmos der Füchse mit ihren erstaunlichen Überlebenskünsten. In Gegenden nördlich des Polarkreises und in nahezu tropischen Gebieten, in Wäldern, Grasland und mitten unter den Menschen - fast überall kann der Rotfuchs überleben und sich nach seinen Bedürfnissen einrichten. Welche uralten Fähigkeiten ihm dabei helfen, zeigt uns Adele Brand, die die Füchse seit zwanzig Jahren studiert, von den Wäldern Polens bis zur indischen Wüste Thar, vom subpolaren Kanada bis zum ländlichen England, wo sie sich auch um bedürftige Füchse kümmert. Auf charmanteste Weise verbindet sie in ihrem Buch die Erkenntnisse der Wissenschaft und die Geschichten von ihren persönlichen Abenteuern mit den Tieren. Wir lernen von ihr, wo die Füchse leben, wie sie ihr Familienleben gestalten, wie sie untereinander kommunizieren und mit anderen Tierarten - auch dem Menschen - interagieren. Daneben gibt sie eine praktische Anleitung zur Beobachtung von Füchsen. Nicht zuletzt erklärt sie, wie wir friedlich, Seite an Seite, mit der wilden Natur zusammenleben und dadurch auch unser Leben bereichern können.

Heart of a Lamb Courage of a Lion - Boab Curran 2013

What is hurt, what is pain, let me tell you and hope it does not rain. Hurt began every Friday, Pay Day, Father drinks it on the way home, We might as well be targets against Lions in Rome. Mother afraid but asks what is left ? As usual the answer left us bereft, it's on the favourite at 4.29 If it wins we can buy some Wine. What about food for the week said she? A Slap and Scream are what we heard first, blood and tears Mum needed a nurse. Then the hard work began, choosing, who is leaving or staying with Dad. Two of us left and two of us stayed. Why did it always had to be that way? It made us mad, and now we know, it will always be that way. No reckless abandon, fun or games, it hurts, it hurts, but won't give the game away. He died on the day man went to the moon, For us it was not a minute to soon. Mum was a victim, and so you see her choice in men, seemed to be always that way. It continued with others, until the day I went away. To the Army at 15 a CHANCE I pray! Little I was, and a champion too, that meant nothing to the paedophile zoo, They bugged me and made me aware, I didn't have a man who really did care. The police don't believe me, so what is the point? I will get them my way don't worry I became a top boxer, because I felt the need to prove myself. I drove myself almost obsessed, with the vision in my head I was gonna make rest. A British champion I became, in 73, believe me, this was not for Me. An Army Commando too, just to prove I was not him, I am not him, but the person within. My Army career died because I couldn't get the rage within, In a corner to settle whilst I tested my mettle, Regrets I have many and not just a few. However I am me, not you, and I am not going to that Zoo!!!!
