Sua Sponte - Dick Couch 2012-07-03

Sua Sponte Latin for "Of Their Own Accord" The 75th Ranger Regiment's Motto Army Rangers are not born. They are made. The modern 75th Ranger Regiment represents the culmination of 250 years of American soldiering. As a fighting force with our nation's oldest and deepest tradition, the Regiment traces its origins to Richard Rogers's Rangers during the prerevolutionary French and Indian War, through the likes of Francis Marion and John Mosby, to the five active Ranger battalions of the Second World War, and finally, to the four battalions of the current Ranger regiment engaged in modern combat. Granted unprecedented access to the training of this highly restricted component of America's Special Operations Forces in a time of war, retired Navy captain Dick Couch tells the personal story of the young men who begin this difficult and dangerous journey to become Rangers. Many will try, but only a select few will survive to serve in the 75th Ranger Regiment. Sua Sponte follows a group of these aspiring young warriors through the crucible that is Ranger training and their preparation for direct-action missions in Afghanistan against America's enemies, anywhere, any time, and under any conditions. Neoliberalism, Cities and Education in the Global South and North -

Kalervo N. Gulson 2016-04-08

Across the world, cities are being reshaped in myriad ways by neoliberal forms of globalization, a process of urban restructuring with significant implications for educational policy and practices. The chapters in this collection speak to two complementary but analytically distinguishable aspects of the interplay between education, globalization, cities, and neoliberalism. The first aspect relates to the macro relationships between these powerful global forces on the one hand, and cities and their schools on the other. In particular the book considers the stratifying dynamics that exacerbate already existing inequalities related to race, ethnicity, language, class, and gender—inequalities entailing differential access to the city's various resources. The second aspect deals with the cultural politics, and logics, of these changes in the city. This recognises that globalization is not simply imposed on the city, but rather becomes insinuated into its fabric through the actions and the agency of local actors and social movements. Against this backdrop, the chapters document how the educational politics of urban contexts in the United States, India, Canada, South Africa and Brazil should be understood as sites in which neoliberal forms of globalization are localised, reproduced, and potentially contested. This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse: Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education.

Foundation of Information Technology - 10 - Chandrika Jaini

Foundation of Information Technology is a judiciously developed series of textbooks on the syllabus devised by the Central Board of Secondary Education for classes 9 and 10. Keeping in mind the grasping power of the students, the books focus on the relevant theory and its applications and practical learning through sequential steps, rather than the elaborate textual study for chapters. Each book is divided into chapters that are self-explanatory and encompass the relevant concepts of the topic concerned. The books do not contain any repetitive content and hence are crisp and condensed. The exercises at the end of the chapters call for active and attentive participation of the learners thereby testing their knowledge and helping in self-assessment. The CCE format of the questions appearing in CBSE exam papers has been followed in developing exercises in the book. There are separate books on MS Office 2010 and OpenOffice in class 9.
