A Pedagogical Design for Human Flourishing - Cynthia McCallister 2022-03-29

In A Pedagogical Design for Human Flourishing: Transforming Schools with the McCallister Model, Cynthia McCallister presents a revolutionary paradigm for education that is practical, conceptually convincing, and grounded in contemporary behavioral science theory. Beginning with the assertion that equality of educational opportunity depends on access to experiences that are sufficiently appropriate and rich to enable the achievement of diverse human potentials, she provides a comprehensive school design for intervention that demonstrates how to achieve it.

Grounded in recent advances in learning science, McCallister asserts three necessary conditions for learning: the need for learners to have access to diverse, rich environmental experiences; the need for them to enjoy fundamental freedom and autonomy to direct their own learning; and access to full and free forms of association. In her model, these conditions provide what is necessary for learners to coordinate their minds with others to develop their identities, personalities, and talents. These conditions are animated in concrete procedures that can be adapted to a wide variety of populations in formal, informal, and remote educational settings. The procedures take the form of rules that learners comply with in the exercise of their freedom. When they are followed, the rules provide a grammar for the social norms that govern the moral worlds of learners and compel them to flourish. Tested over two decades in her work as a teacher, scholar, and school reformer in more than 20 NYC public schools, the McCallister Method has delivered an innovative and disruptive approach to schooling that has proven successful in finally transforming low-performing industrial schools into 21st-century learning organizations. Online support material includes assessments, records, surveys, and more to be used in school design and classroom settings.

Learning to Read and Write in One Elementary School - Connie Juel

2012-12-06

When a fourth-grade student, Jenny, was asked about reading, she stated: "I love to read, you get real neat ideas. I really like books about animals and biographies. I'm writing my autobiography now. Oh, I also really like Judy Blume books. " Her enthusiasm for reading is evident as she tells you about the Judy Blume book she just read, Are You There God? It's Me, Margaret (1970). Jenny reads almost every night at home. Jenny's classmate through 4 years of elementary school, Anna, responds, when asked about reading: "I hate to read; it's boring. " Anna says she never reads at home. She says she'd rather watch television or play with friends. Anna would even rather clean her room than read. She explains, "I'd rather clean my room because it makes the room look neat. Reading makes my head hurt because it's so boring and no fun. " Jenny and Anna attended a large neighborhood elementary school in Austin, Texas. The school is located in a lower socioeconomic status (SES) area of small houses, duplexes, mld apartments. About 45% of the children at the school are Hispanic, 35% are African-American, and 20% are Anglo. The school consistently ranks among the lowest schools in the district on standardized reading achievement tests. Upon entering first grade, neither Jenny nor Anna could read the words that were to appear in their first preprimer reader.

The Status of Reading Instruction in the Greater New Orleans Area - Marie Marcus 1966

Translation of Thought to Written Text While Composing - Michel Fayol 2012-05-04

Translation of cognitive representations into written language is one of the most important processes in writing. This volume provides a long-awaited updated overview of the field. The contributors discuss each of the commonly used research methods for studying translation; theorize about the nature of the cognitive and language representations and cognitive/linguistic transformation mechanisms involved in translation during writing; and make the case that translation is a higher-order executive function that is fundamental to the writing process. The book also reviews the application of research to practice -- that is, the translation of the research findings in education and the work-world for individuals who interact with others using written language to communicate ideas. This volume provides a rich resource for student, theorists, and empirical researchers in cognitive psychology, linguistics, and education; and teachers and clinicians who can use the research in their work.

Mehrsprachiges Lesetheater - Sabine Kutzelmann 2017-08-14

Das didaktisch-methodische Design Mehrsprachiges Lesetheater (MELT) ist eine Maßnahme zur sprach- und fachübergreifenden Förderung der Leseflüssigkeit und Lesemotivation. Während bei herkömmlichen Theaterinszenierungen dramatische Texte frei rezitiert werden, werden beim Lesetheater Texte in verteilten Rollen szenisch vorgelesen. Das Vorlesen wird in kooperierenden Arbeitsgruppen von Schüler/innen trainiert und abschließend im Klassenverband aufgeführt. Das Hauptaugenmerk liegt in der Unterrichtsarbeit auf dem lauten Lesen, das zu einer erhöhten Leseflüssigkeit beitragen kann. Die Lesetheater sind mehrsprachig in zwei bis drei Sprachen gestaltet. Der Einbezug von Migrationsprachen ist möglich. Das Unterrichtskonzept stellt das Zusammenspiel zwischen allen erworbenen und erlernten Sprachen in den Vordergrund. Das Unterrichtsdesign wurde mit Lehrkräften und Schulklassen in Deutschland, Luxemburg, Österreich und der Schweiz entwickelt, erprobt und für den Einsatz in der Praxis optimiert. Das Buch richtet sich an Lehrpersonen der Primar- und Sekundarstufe I sowie an Didaktiker/innen an Hochschulen und in der Lehrerfortbildung.

Precursors of Functional Literacy - Ludo Th Verhoeven 2002-01-01

The purpose of this volume is to present recent research in the field of the acquisition of functional literacy and its precursors. The volume aims to capture the state of the art in this rapidly expanding field. An attempt is made to clarify the vague and often inconsistent definitions of functional literacy from the perspective of development. Cognitive, linguistic, educational, and social factors of literacy development are all taken into account. The volume consists of three subsequent parts. The first part goes into phonological precursors of literacy development. In this part the focus is on the development of early language precursors of reading and writing. The cultural foundations of these precursors are explored, and their links with reading development are dealt with in detail. Different psycholinguistic approaches are also proposed to explain the occurrence of literacy problems. In the second part, the scope is on the constraints of reading and writing efficiency at the word level and beyond. The acquisition of reading and writing is seen as a result from the interaction between phonological, orthographic, and semantic processes. A crosslinguistic perspective is taken on the role of writing system factors in the acquisition of literacy skills. The final part deals with the role of social and educational factors in literacy acquisition. Starting from a crosscultural perspective, the central issue is how the attainment of functional literacy is dependent on sociocultural variation. The predictors of more advanced levels of literacy development are considered, including foreign language literacy and adult literacy.
