The New Boardroom Leaders: How Today's Corporate Boards Are Taking Charge - Ralph D. Ward 2008-10-30

For generations, the cozy, standard model of boardroom leadership was simple: The CEO was also Chairman of the Board, and directors rubberstamped his initiatives. The 2002 Sarbanes-Oxley Act forced radical change on all U.S. public corporations: The board must now hold sessions without management, key committees have tough new independence rules, and all board members now face an unavoidable legal responsibility to provide truly independent oversight of the corporation. Missteps can put companies and individual directors in serious legal danger. The result is an urgent demand that corporate boards develop their own confident, independent leaders from within. But how? That's something that governance expert Ralph Ward, in The New Boardroom Leaders, explains in detail. Until now, no one has tracked and compiled answers to new, basic governance questions. What should a lead director's job description include? Why is a separate chair not necessarily an independent chair? How do you shape an agenda for meetings of independent directors? How do CEOs and the new board leaders divide their roles? How much power should a separate board leader really have? This book answers these questions and more.

Companies are scrambling to create new procedures and roles. But there are few job descriptions for these new boardroom leaders—something this book provides, as well as a wealth of insights and tips. The New Boardroom Leaders offers the first inside look at how board leaders actually do their jobs, based on extensive interviews and research. The emphasis will be on practical advice from real board leaders on what worked in their boardrooms, what didn't, and what they expect in the future. It will become a longtime, worthy guide for board members in the new world brought on by Sarbanes-Oxley and the quest for ever-better, and strictly ethical, corporate performance.

5 Keys to Your Ideal Weight - Natalie Forest

Weight is one of the overriding concerns most people in today's world, especially in the Western Hemisphere, have. As a society, we have collaboratively created a billion-dollar industry focused on weight loss, and you probably know many of the programs that are out there. However, at the root of this amazing marketing coup is the creation of the "perfect" body and shape that keeps being pushed into our lives, even if we avoid media indoctrination. The question then needs to be: why? Why is this weight loss that I have worked on for the last six months, dropping thirty-four pounds, only temporary? Why did I gain ten pounds initially but am now underweight again? Why am I not gaining and maintaining more weight, which would be beneficial? What am I missing? What are we missing in this dieting world? This question is at the heart of my coaching the 5 keys to your IDEAL weight and this little book. This question opens the door to so many that we need to answer in this process, many of which I will share with you here. My goal is to empower you and help you unify again, help you reconnect with your beautiful you--just as I was able to do once I arrived at the root issue. This book is about your IDEAL weight, whether that means you are in a situation where you need to lose or gain weight. There are many who have taken weight loss to the unhealthy level of being underweight, and this book can also help them.

Ask The Sales Coach-Practical Answers to the Questions Sales People Ask Most - Susan A. Enns 2019-02-20

Contrary to the popular belief, sales people don't rely on "the gift of the gab" to be successful. Actually, the opposite is true. The best sales professionals spend far more time asking and listening than they do talking and selling. They ask questions of their customers; they ask questions of their colleagues, and they ask questions of their managers. If Oxford defines curiosity as the strong desire to know or learn something, then by that definition, sales people are curious by nature. In fact, that's how sales professionals learn to be professional in the first place. This is a collection of practical answers to questions sales people ask most. Written by Susan A. Enns, a professional sales coach with a proven track record of sales excellence over her 30 plus year career. Her accomplishments include consecutively being the top sales rep in Canada, managing the top sales branch, and achieving outstanding sales growth in a national channel sales organization. She has written several books about sales and sales management and has created numerous automated sales tools. Her work has been published in several locations numerous times and has sold on five separate continents. As such, over the years, Susan has been asked many questions by many sales people. After a while, she saw that sales people, regardless of their experience, the products they sell, the industries in which they operate, or the countries where they sell, all share similar curiosities. In other words, although the wording may be different when asked in an email or when asked in person, sales people all ask the same questions, the most common of which are answered in this ebook. As the old saying goes, the only stupid questions are the ones unasked. As a sales professional, you should never be afraid to "Ask the Sales Coach" because you will learn so much from the answers! - "Susan really knows the selling world. She's honest, articulate, bright, giving, highly competent, personable and a top professional. Welcome her. It's the right thing to do." - "Our company hired Susan as our sales coach. She has helped me make more appointments, close more deals and make more money. The 3 most important concepts in sales. I would recommend any sales force hire her to help boost business sales". - "Susan ...understands the sales process intimately and is able to create a management process around it that drives sales people to accomplish their goals." - "Susan knows her stuff. She brings many years of great sales experience and success to anyone who wished to improve their skills in sales. She is very personable, and is not afraid to tell it like it is. I would recommend anyone (and I have) to Susan, her website, her books if you want to become a better sales person." - "Thanks for the training... I made my quota this year in May!"
